

Discussion Questions:

1. How was Zeha's life the same as yours and how was it different?
2. Would you like to have a school that taught you everything about your own ethnic group?
3. When has the United States had strife between different ethnic groups? Does that still exist?

Jeopardy questions:

For 100 points:

- ZEYA: Zeya had two older _____: sisters
- BURMA: Burma had a lot of different: ethnic groups
- ZEYA'S SCHOOL: Zeya's school taught him about _____: Mon culture
- MON: The Mon were often oppressed by which Burmese ethnic group:
Burman

For 200 points:

- ZEYA: Zeha really loved his _____: school
- BURMA: Over 3,000 Buddhist _____ were killed when Burman ruler U Aungzeya came in: Priests
- ZEYA'S SCHOOL: The school operated out of this kind of building:
administrative
- MON: The Mon were this religion: Buddhist

For 300 points:

- ZEYA: Zeya had an uncle named: U Wumma
- BURMA: Burma had been colonized by what country: Great Britain
- ZEYA'S SCHOOL: When Zeha returned from his uncle's house, what happened to his school: burned down
- MON: Many Mon were forced into refugee camps in this country: Thailand

For 400 points:

- ZEYA: Where did Zeya's grandchildren end up: Milwaukee
- BURMA: Zeya's family wanted the Burmese ethnic groups represented like _____: states in America.
- ZEYA'S SCHOOL: The sisters that started the school were named: Mi thiri and Mi nyein
- MON: This Mon kingdom ruled for nearly 300 years: Hanthawaddy

Zeya 	Burma 	Zeya's school 	Mon
100	100	100	100
200	200	200	200
300	300	300	300
400	400	400	400