

Polish Milwaukee

WORD OF THE DAY: MEMORABLE: extraordinary, worthy of remembering often.

1. Remind the students about the Great Depression.
2. The shops in this story actually existed on Milwaukee's Lincoln Avenue in 1941. The Socialists also had an office there and gave daily speeches on the street. Have fun with the pronunciations.
3. You might tell the students that years ago political speeches were made by standing on top of wooden boxes (often soap boxes), so the speaker would stand above the crowd.
4. You might explain that the Socialists were a party that ruled Milwaukee for many years. They believed in a lot of government services. Because they didn't particularly honor religion, the Catholic Church was against them. Today that has changed and the churches are not against the Socialists.
5. You might ask the students if they ever had an experience like Stefan's over animals.
