

Puerto Ricans

WORDS OF THE DAY: CEDE: Give over, give up; COMMONWEALTH: a political unit that is like a state but in some cases the people there don't pay taxes and don't vote in all elections. In the US, the commonwealth representatives do not have a vote in Congress.

1. This is a good example to address the notion of cultural hybridity (the interaction and blending of multiple cultures) to the students. The Puerto Ricans are of course a genetic mix of many peoples but because of circular migration and their status of being citizens of the US, they also have their feet deeply rooted in two cultures.
2. If the students don't know what arroz con gandules is, you should tell them it is a seasoned rice dish with pigeon peas. It is SOOOOO delicious.
